

Doreen Kelf

My background was in General Gastroenterology, but I have always had a keen interest in Liver Disease.

I have worked as Specialist Nurse for 17 years covering all Gastroenterology for about 3 years but specialising in Liver Disease for 14 years.

I have worked across 2 hospitals in Norfolk and set up outreach clinics in the drug services and prisons.

My interests have been in facilitating patient access to care and encouraging patient compliance with treatment regimes, with this sometimes very chaotic group of patients. The later was the subject of my dissertation.
